After Colposcopy or Cervical Biopsy

After your colposcopy or cervical biopsy you may have no, little or moderate bleeding. You may also experience a brown, thick discharge which may have an odor. This is normal and should be expected. You should observe the following:

- Do not use tampons until the bleeding and discharge has stopped. Use pads only for at least 5 days.
- No intercourse for 5 days
- If you get your normal period during this time, use pads only.

If any of the following occur, please call our office:

- Temperature greater than 100.4°F
- Severe pelvic cramping or pain
- Bleeding heavier than a period, especially if your period was not due

Results are usually available 3 to 5 days after your biopsy. Our office will contact you with the results as soon as they are available.
